CORE COMPETENCIES
NORTH CAROLINA AFTERSCHOOL PROFESSIONAL CORE COMPETENCIES

The North Carolina Afterschool Professional Core Competencies provide a framework of the knowledge and skills needed in eight content areas of professional development in the field of afterschool programming. They address the wide variety of skills and abilities necessary to work with afterschool-age children and youth. The competencies are based on the following beliefs:

- Competent, well-trained professionals are the key to quality afterschool programming.
- Competencies can be used to establish standards for employment and job performance.
- Individual competencies are considered emergent, developing over time with experience.
- Competencies are cumulative and together create a continuum for professional development for the afterschool workforce.

The core competencies are based on research and categorized according to five levels of skills necessary to provide quality programming. The skill levels establish a continuum from beginning workforce skills (Level 1) to an advanced level of skill which includes academic preparation (Level 5). Professionals progress from one level to another through a combination of formal study and practical experience. Depending on a professional’s role, setting, or experience, he or she may have skills at varying levels in the different areas.50, 51, 52
COMPETENCY LEVELS

LEVEL 1: Includes the knowledge and skills expected of a professional new to the field with minimal specialized training and/or education. A level 1 professional can be considered new staff with limited to no background in the youth development field. Possible positions may be volunteers (adult or teen), episodic volunteers, or staff.

LEVEL 2: Includes level 1 plus the knowledge and skills commensurate with a Youth Development Credential, a certificate in youth development or equivalent training and/or education. Possible positions may be the lower level frontline worker who has attended minimal training; however, the worker has interaction with the children and youth on a regular basis.

LEVEL 3: Includes levels 1 and 2 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with an Associate’s degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 3 positions may include site coordinators or staff members with slightly more responsibility than the typical frontline worker.

LEVEL 4: Includes levels 1, 2, and 3 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with a Bachelor’s degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 4 positions are often the Program Director or Coordinator.

LEVEL 5: Includes levels 1, 2, 3, and 4 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with an advanced degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 5 positions are often the supporting agencies’ Executive Director, State/Regional Specialists, or funding agency representative familiar with school-age and youth development best practices.

COMPETENCY LEVEL VISUAL

LEVEL 5
Includes levels 1, 2, 3, and 4 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with an advanced degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 5 positions are often the supporting agencies’ Executive Director, State/Regional Specialists, or funding agency representative familiar with school-age and youth development best practices.

LEVEL 4
Includes levels 1, 2, and 3 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with a Bachelor’s degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 4 positions are often the Program Director or Coordinator.

LEVEL 3
Includes levels 1 and 2 plus knowledge and skills commensurate with an Associate’s degree in child or youth development or related fields from an accredited institution. Level 3 positions may include site coordinators or staff members with slightly more responsibility than the typical frontline worker.

LEVEL 2
Includes level 1 plus the knowledge and skills commensurate with a Youth Development Credential, a certificate in youth development or equivalent training and/or education. Possible positions may be the lower level frontline worker who has attended minimal training; however, the worker has interaction with the children and youth on a regular basis.

LEVEL 1
Includes the knowledge and skills expected of a professional new to the field with minimal specialized training and/or education. A level 1 professional can be considered new staff with limited to no background in the youth development field. Possible positions may be volunteers (adult or teen), episodic volunteers, or staff.

CONTENT AREAS

The competencies are broken down into eight content areas:

I: CHILD/YOUTH GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

II: LEARNING ENVIRONMENT AND CURRICULUM
- Creating the Learning Environment and General Curriculum
- Promoting Physical Development
- Promoting Cognitive Development
- Promoting Communication Skills
- Promoting Social Development
- Promoting Creative Expression

III: CHILD/YOUTH OBSERVATION AND ASSESSMENT

IV: FAMILIES, SCHOOLS, AND COMMUNITIES
- Relationships with Families
- Connections with Schools
- Use of Community Resources

V: HEALTH, SAFETY, AND NUTRITION
- Knowledge of Regulations
- Environmental Safety
- Nutrition and Healthy Lifestyles
- Responding to Health Needs of Youth

VI: INTERACTIONS WITH CHILDREN AND YOUTH
- Providing Individual Guidance
- Enhancing Group Experiences

VII: PROGRAM PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT
- Program Planning and Evaluation
- Personnel Management
- Financial Management

VIII: PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND LEADERSHIP
- Displaying Professionalism in Practice
- Ongoing Professional Growth
- Leadership and Advocacy

Professionals from various agencies collaborated to develop this set of core competencies to serve as the foundation for the North Carolina Afterschool Professional Development System. The collaborative group’s goal is to establish a set of standards that support quality care and the professionalization of the child and youth development field. Core competencies define what professionals need to know and be able to do to provide quality afterschool programming. They serve as the foundation for decisions and practices of professionals and establish a set of standards that support professionalization of the youth development field. As professionals increase their knowledge and skills, they improve the services they provide to children, youth and their families. It is anticipated that continued research in the field of afterschool programming will refine these competencies even further. 50, 51, 52
WAYS TO USE THE COMPETENCIES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ROLE</th>
<th>SUGGESTED USE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Group Leaders, Youth Workers, Youth Development Professionals | □ Assess level of knowledge and skill in each of the eight content areas
□ Identify specific professional development needs (e.g., training and/or education) |
| Directors, Program Administrators | □ Specify training and/or education requirements for position descriptions
□ Develop staff professional development plans and policies
□ Establish a salary scale based on professional development levels
□ Guide the development and implementation of staff evaluations |
| Families, Communities, Public Education (K-12) | □ Articulate expectations of staff working with children and youth |
| Trainers, Training Organizations | □ Plan and organize training and/or education opportunities
□ Promote training and/or education opportunities |
| Higher Education Faculty, Staff, and Administrators | □ Coordinate and design course content to facilitate transfer and articulation agreements
□ Assess current program content to determine course development |
| Federal, State, and Local Agencies | □ Develop and implement policies that will enhance professionalism in the field |
| Professional Development Efforts | □ Create the framework for a professional development system that provides access to competency-based training and/or education, links compensation commensurate with training and/or educational achievements, and supports professional recognition |

KEEP IN MIND…

These core competencies serve to provide a framework of the knowledge and skills needed for afterschool professionals. They focus solely on the professional development of high quality staff, and do not include specific program standards. The standards and regulations of a program’s funding or licensing agency or the NC Center for Afterschool Programs’ Standards of Excellence may be used for identifying standards of a high quality program.

Best practices recommend appropriate supervision of the planning and implementation of these competencies. The NC Afterschool Professional Development Work Group understands that not all programs will employ staff persons at each level. Agencies should exercise discretion in making adjustments to suit the needs of their respective afterschool programs. With that in mind, some adjustments to consider are:

□ Some lower level staff will need to incorporate skills and abilities identified at higher staffing levels. For example, while listed as a Level 5 staff skill, a Level 4 person may be identified as the appropriate person to conduct staff training.

□ All higher level staff may be called on as mentors to those staff at lower levels – for supervision and assistance in building the skills necessary to meet a Level’s requirements.

In this document, “all youth” refers to all youth, including those with special needs and English language learners.

Wherever curriculum is listed and where appropriate, the NC Afterschool Professional Development Work Group recommends linking to the NC Standard Course of Study.21

Staff at all levels should practice confidentiality when working with children and youth.
DEFINITION OF TERMS

AFTERSCHOOL – A general term used to describe an array of safe, structured programs that provide children and youth ages kindergarten through high school with a range of supervised activities intentionally designed to encourage learning and development, outside of the typical school day. Can include before, after, intersession and summer programs. NOTE: throughout this document, the terms “afterschool” and “school-age” are used interchangeably.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT – programs and/or practices designed to enhance students’ understanding of instructional material presented with the ultimate goal of improving student performance.

ACTIVE LISTENING – continuous and interactive process of listening carefully and giving feedback (verbal and nonverbal) to the speaker, in order to facilitate productive communication.

ADULT-DIRECTED – programs, lessons and/or activities that are developed and led by a teacher and based on curricular or teaching objectives.

AGE-APPROPRIATE – suitable to the chronological age range and developmental characteristics of a specific group of children and youth.

ALL YOUTH – in this document, “all youth” refers to all youth, including those with special needs and English Language Learners.

ASSETS – developmental assets; the framework of experiences and opportunities that children and youth need to grow into healthy, responsible adults.

BEST PRACTICE – a technique or methodology that, through experience and research, has proven to reliably lead to a desired result.

CURRICULUM – a set of courses, lessons, and/or activities constituting an area of specialization.

DIVERSITY – composed of distinct or unlike elements or qualities; the acceptance or promotion of different cultures, applied to the demographic make-up of a specific place (i.e., organizations, schools, neighborhoods).

ETHICS – a theory or system of moral values; the discipline of dealing with good and bad with moral duty and obligation.

EVALUATION – the systematic collection, analysis and reporting of information about a program to assist in decision-making.

OPEN-ENDED QUESTION – a forum of questions used to promote dialogue, also known as a subjective question. It requires the participant to answer in his/her own words and usually begins with “who,” “where,” “what,” “why,” and/or “how”.

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY – bodily movement of any type. It may include recreational activities such as games and sports, or daily activities such as walking and climbing stairs.

PROFESSIONALS – can refer to staff of afterschool, out-of-school time, summer learning, and school-age programs.

PROGRAM MISSION – describes the central purpose of the program or organization.

RISK FACTORS – can include, but are not limited to, health, poverty, socio-economic, and nutrition.

RISK MANAGEMENT ISSUES – process of determining the maximum acceptable level of overall risk; assessing potential risks to determine level of risk present; and, if excessive, developing a strategy to reduce risk, so that level of risk is reduced to an acceptable level. Strategies may involve putting new policies into place, or adapting current policies and/or practices.

YOUTH-DIRECTED – programs, lessons and/or activities that are driven by student interest and designed with input from students.
CONTENT AREA I
CHILD/YOUTH GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT:

DEFINITION/DESCRIPTION:
Children and youth develop in a systematic way, and it is important to recognize the difference between stage development and individual development. Knowledge of the predictable stages of growth and development of children is essential. Additionally, understanding that differences in age, gender, race and ethnic background, socio-economic class, language and abilities, including special needs, impacts individual growth and development. Professionals create learning environments that support all children/youth through respectful consideration of their individual differences. 17, 26, 33, 40, 50, 51, 52

LEVEL 1
a. Demonstrates awareness of the basic stages of youth development.33
b. Demonstrates understanding that youth learn and develop through experience.33
c. Demonstrates awareness of cultural and environmental factors and the effects those factors may have on behavior and development.33
d. Responds positively, through actions, to the individual needs of all youth.8

LEVEL 2
a. Demonstrates knowledge of specific physical, cognitive, social, and emotional stages of youth development.19
b. Demonstrates understanding of youth development frameworks pertaining to positive youth outcomes (e.g., 40 Developmental Assets, Positive Youth Development).12, 21, 23
c. Demonstrates knowledge of differences in youth and the ways in which those differences impact their needs and participation in the program.49
d. Identifies the various ways in which youth learn and adapts experiences to the individual/group needs of youth.19
e. Identifies risk factors, delays, or behaviors that may indicate a need for special services or program adaptations.49

LEVEL 3
a. Demonstrates knowledge of current theories and ongoing research related to family and youth development.12, 33
b. Integrates information on growth, development, and learning styles of individuals and applies it to youth in group settings.19
c. Creates environments and experiences that value, affirm, and respect cultural/linguistic diversity.19
d. Employs practices that support an inclusive philosophy.8
e. Utilizes appropriate resources to include the family, and makes program adaptations for all youth.19

LEVEL 4
a. Applies major theories of youth development to program planning and management to include physical, cognitive, social and emotional differences.8
b. Shares information with families about the general principles of child/youth growth and development.8
c. Ensures that the program’s policies and practices reflect an inclusive philosophy.6

LEVEL 5
a. Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to child/youth growth and development.27
b. Explores and applies multiple approaches to youth development programs and outcomes.79
CONTENT AREA II
LEARNING ENVIRONMENT AND CURRICULUM

CONTENT AREA INCLUDES:

■ Creating the Learning Environment and General Curriculum
■ Promoting Physical Development
■ Promoting Cognitive Development
■ Promoting Communication Skills
■ Promoting Social Development
■ Promoting Creative Expression

DEFINITION/DESCRIPTION:
Professionals have the responsibility of creating an environment that fosters growth and development in the youth they serve. The capacity to establish and maintain a safe, nurturing environment is essential for all youth development professionals to possess. Within each component of the learning environment and the curriculum content area, professionals should be able to create a program in which a developmentally appropriate curriculum can be developed, delivered, and sustained.4,16,17,22,23,36,49

For the purpose of this content area, academic support is defined as programs and/or practices designed to enhance students’ understanding of instructional material presented with the ultimate goal of improving student performance.

The NC Afterschool Professional Development Group recommends that the NC Standard Course of Study be referenced for additional information concerning promoting academic development. The Group also recommends using the Move More North Carolina: Recommended Standards for After-School Physical Activity for additional information concerning promoting physical development.

Creating the Learning Environment and General Curriculum

LEVEL 1

a Supports a positive, safe, and inclusive environment.19
b Follows appropriate program structure including a daily schedule and routine.21,22
c Supports and encourages youth participation in a variety of activities.6,14,23,32 d Demonstrates understanding of the importance of youth involvement in the planning process.6,23,54
e Demonstrates recognition of the importance of connections between what is learned in school and other experiences.22 demonstration of acceptance of race, gender, culture, family, language, and special needs.8

LEVEL 2

a Selects materials appropriate to the developmental levels of all youth.49
b Maintains and monitors daily schedules.21,23,49 c Actively involves youth in a variety of developmentally appropriate activities that facilitate fun and promote learning through experimentation, exploration, and simulations.49
d Involves youth in developing activities and learning experiences.6,54
e Involves youth in discussions of concepts learned in and out of school.22
f Provides active and quiet, youth-directed and adult-directed, individual and group, indoor and outdoor activities.8
g Arranges effective and appropriate activity areas.8
h Uses materials that demonstrate acceptance of race, gender, culture, family, language, and special needs.8

LEVEL 3

a Plans and adapts activities to make them appropriate for the developmental levels of all youth.49
b Implements a curriculum and learning environment using innovative materials, technologies, choices and decision-making, which incorporates experimentation, exploration, simulation, and play
Promoting Physical Development

LEVEL 1
a. Facilitates a variety of physical activities that meet the interests, development, and skill levels of youth.
b. Interacts with and engages youth while providing group supervision during physical activities.
c. Provides an opportunity for both structured and unstructured play.

LEVEL 2
a. Supports all youth as they participate in physical activities.
b. Uses a variety of equipment, activities, and opportunities to promote physical health and fitness.

LEVEL 3
a. Adapts physical health and fitness activities for youth with special needs.
b. Demonstrates understanding of the importance of physical activity.
c. Incorporates physical activities into all curricular areas, using the Move More NC: Recommended Standards for After-School Physical Activity.
d. Provides an environment that is conducive to exploring and developing a variety of physical skills.
LEVEL 4

a Evaluates the appropriateness and effectiveness of physical development activities for all youth.
b Articulates the importance and demonstrates the methods of integrating health and fitness activities into all curricular areas.
c Ensures implementation of health and fitness activities for youth.

LEVEL 5

a Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting physical development.
b Advocates for policies and practices that promote the physical development of youth.

Promoting Cognitive Development

LEVEL 1

a Facilitates a variety of cognitive and other enrichment activities that meet different interest and skill levels.
b Encourages youth to ask questions for understanding and actively listens to the responses given.
c Actively interacts with youth during cognitive experiences.

LEVEL 2

a Includes all youth in cognitive activities.
b Asks youth relevant open-ended questions to extend their learning.
c Engages in cognitive activities with youth while maintaining a supervisory role.
d Encourages the cognitive development of youth through experimentation, exploration, simulation, and play.
e Provides a variety of activities and opportunities that encourage exploration and problem solving appropriate for the different developmental levels of youth.
f Leads age-appropriate arts, literary, math, science, technology, and nature exploration in a manner that engages youth and builds on their interests.
g Follows the program’s philosophy on homework assistance.
h Facilitates learning opportunities that reflect diverse cultures, especially those representative of the program’s community.
i Uses a variety of cognitive activities, including formal, informal, staff-directed, youth-directed, and instructional.

LEVEL 3

a Adapts cognitive activities for all youth.
b Revisits learning activities with youth so they can reflect and build on previous learning to develop and refine thinking skills.
c Engages all youth in problem-solving and critical-thinking skills.
d Guides youth in arts, math, science, technology, and nature exploration activities in response to their interests.
e Incorporates cognitive activities into all curricular areas (e.g., recreation and fitness, academic support, life skills, personal growth and development).
f Provides a learning environment that is conducive to the exploration and development of cognitive skills.
g Designs learning opportunities that reflect diverse cultures, especially those representative of the program’s community.

LEVEL 4

a Plans, evaluates, and modifies activities/curriculum to encourage the cognitive growth of all youth.
b Varies program strategies to correspond to multiple learning styles.
c Plans and develops youth problem-solving and critical-thinking activities.
d Evaluates the appropriateness and effectiveness of cognitive activities for groups and individuals.
e Articulates the importance and demonstrates the methods of integrating cognitive activities into all curricular areas.

LEVEL 5

a Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting physical development.
b Advocates for policies and practices that promote the physical development of youth.
LEVEL 5
a Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting cognitive development.27
b Collaborates with other agencies to research

c Provides training to staff on integrating cognitive activities into all curricular areas.27

Promoting Communication Skills

LEVEL 1
a Demonstrates understanding that youth communicate in a variety of ways.8
b Models active listening and verbal skills.8
c Communicates appropriately and respectfully.8
d Stimulates conversation with and between youth.8

c Implements communication experiences and activities based on the needs of youth.14
d Incorporates communication skills into all curricular areas (e.g., arts, recreation and fitness, academic support, life skills, personal growth and development).27

LEVEL 2
a Encourages the active participation of all youth in communication activities.27
b Offers a variety of communication opportunities that meet individual interests and skill levels.8
c Expands own and youths’ vocabularies through a variety of ways.8
d Encourages youth to use appropriate verbal and nonverbal means of communicating thoughts and feelings.8
e Demonstrates awareness of barriers in communication and responds appropriately.8
f Provides an environment that is conducive to the exploration and development of communication skills.14

LEVEL 3
a Adapts communication activities for all youth.27
b Offers programming opportunities for youth to learn effective communication skills.8

c Implements communication experiences and activities based on the needs of youth.14
d Incorporates communication skills into all curricular areas (e.g., arts, recreation and fitness, academic support, life skills, personal growth and development).27

LEVEL 4
a Plans and evaluates the appropriateness and effectiveness of communication activities.27
b Collaborates with language specialists to adapt and modify interactions with youth based on their individual communication skills.8

c Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to emerging trends in language acquisition, development, and literacy.27
b Collaborates with other agencies to research and share information on communication development.8
c Advocates for policies and practices that promote the communication development of youth.27
d Provides training to staff on integrating communication development activities into all curricular areas.27

c Provides training to staff on integrating cognitive activities into all curricular areas.27

Promoting Social Development

LEVEL 1
a Treats youth as individuals, respecting their own strengths and needs and encouraging mutual respect.59
b Provides an environment that is conducive to the exploration and development of social skills.8
c Demonstrates an understanding that periods of stress and transition may affect youth’s social development.49
d Engages youth in positive, supportive conversations and interactions.8,16,45

c Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting cognitive development.27
b Collaborates with other agencies to research

c Provides training to staff on integrating cognitive activities into all curricular areas.27
LEVEL 2

a. Helps youth learn to communicate and get along with others in a safe and inclusive environment.¹²
b. Promotes and encourages youth to exhibit empathy and mutual respect for the rights and possessions of others.¹⁸
c. Guides youth through periods of stress and transition.²⁴
d. Encourages youth to perceive events and experiences in their lives as opportunities for growth.⁹
e. Provides many opportunities for youth to learn cooperation through games and activities.⁸
f. Supports youth in developing awareness both as an individual and as a valued member of a family and ethnic or social group.⁴⁷
g. Models awareness and sensitivity to diverse cultural values and expectations.⁴⁷
h. Models recognition and expression of feelings.⁸

LEVEL 3

a. Adapts social activities to meet the needs of all youth.⁸
b. Facilitates youth participation in curriculum implementation and evaluation.¹¹
c. Incorporates social activities into all curricular areas (e.g., arts, recreation and fitness, academic support, life skills, personal growth and development).¹¹
d. Facilitates youth participation in problem-solving in a social setting.¹¹
e. Guides youth in responding appropriately to a variety of social settings.¹¹
f. Intervenes appropriately to help the social development of youth.⁸

LEVEL 4

a. Identifies and assesses youth social skills and provides appropriate activities to address their needs.¹⁸
b. Provides a meaningful curriculum that emphasizes social skills and relationships, including friendships.¹²
c. Plans and evaluates the appropriateness and effectiveness of social activities for groups and individuals.¹⁸
d. Develops strategies that encourage character education, which includes respect for self and others, responsibility, integrity, self-discipline, leadership and citizenship.³¹

LEVEL 5

a. Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting social development.⁴⁹
b. Collaborates with other agencies to research and communicate information on social development of youth.⁸
c. Advocates for policies and practices that promote the social development of youth.²⁷
d. Evaluates the quality and effectiveness of curriculum, activities, and opportunities that support the social development of youth.⁴⁹
e. Provides training to staff on integrating social development activities and skills into all curricular activities.⁹

Promoting Creative Expression

LEVEL 1

a. Encourages the process of creating as well as the end product.⁹
b. Encourages individuality.²
c. Accepts cultural differences that may affect the ways in which youth express individual creativity.²

LEVEL 2

a. Uses technology to support creative expression.⁵
b. Ensures time for spontaneous activities.⁵
c. Provides materials for unstructured, self-directed activities.⁸
d. Models and encourages creativity through the arts.⁸
e  Provides activities to promote creative expression.¹
f  Provides opportunities that encourage youth to experiment with sound, rhythm, movement, language, materials, space, and ideas in individual ways.¹

LEVEL 3

a  Adapts creative activities for youth with special needs.²
b  Ensures that all youth have access to opportunities that allow for individual creative expression.²
c  Implements curriculum and experiences to promote the creative expression of all youth.³
d  Involves youth in the development and implementation of creative and aesthetic activities.³
e  Demonstrates awareness of and uses the community as a resource for creative experiences.³
f  Incorporates creative activities into all curricular areas.²

g  Provides an environment where youth feel free to explore and develop their creative skills.²
h  Provides time, space, and materials to support each youth’s creative development.³

i  Introduces youth to creative and aesthetic experiences in their community.³

LEVEL 4

a  Demonstrates leadership in establishing partnerships with organizations in the community that stimulate creative and aesthetic experiences for youth.²
b  Encourages and integrates creative expression throughout curriculum.²
c  Shows respect for creative expression through various methods of presentation (e.g., display, performances, publishing, creating portfolios).²
d  Advocates for the importance of youth representing their thoughts, feelings, and ideas through creative outlets.²
e  Evaluates the appropriateness of creative and aesthetic experiences for groups and individuals.²
f  Ensures integration of creative activities into all curricular areas.³

g  Articulates the impact of creative activities on youth.²

LEVEL 5

a  Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to promoting creative experiences.³
b  Collaborates with other agencies to research and communicate information on creative development.³
c  Identifies and invites specialists to incorporate the arts into the curriculum.²
d  Provides training to staff on integrating creative activities into all curricular areas.³
CONTENT AREA III
CHILD/YOUTH OBSERVATION AND ASSESSMENT

DEFINITION/DESCRIPTION:
Professionals consistently utilize communication, interaction, and observation to assist in the understanding of children and their behaviors. Good observational techniques will allow staff to know how a child is progressing socially, emotionally, cognitively, and physically. Quality professionals combine observation and assessment to develop strategies that produce positive youth outcomes for all children.34

LEVEL 1
a Demonstrates understanding that youth develop at their own pace.49
b Demonstrates understanding of how positive youth experiences lead to positive youth outcomes. 43
c Assists with collection of information about youth behaviors. 49
d Maintains confidentiality regarding observation and assessment information.8
e Demonstrates knowledge of environmental factors that may place youth at risk. 49
f Shares concerns about behavior and environmental factors with supervisor.8

LEVEL 2
a Demonstrates an awareness and understanding of stages of youth development. 49
b Utilizes various strategies to get to know each youth as an individual, including his or her strengths, needs, interests, family, and life situation.34
c Uses age-appropriate expectations as the basis for observation of youth behaviors. 49
d Follows appropriate procedures for observing and assessing youth (e.g., remaining objective, asking open-ended and non-judgmental questions). 49
e Communicates observations in written and oral form to supervisor.25

LEVEL 3
a Implements accommodations based on the range of development and skills among youth.3
b Continually observes youth, analyzes and evaluates, and implements findings.48
c Collects and organizes information to measure youth outcomes (e.g., using samples of a youth’s work, completing skill lists, recording anecdotal notes).49
d Interprets and incorporates observation and assessment information into program plans to meet group and individual needs.49
e Engages youth, families, and program and school staff in the ongoing assessment process. 8
f Demonstrates understanding of the role of risk factors on youth development (e.g., poverty, nutrition, health).22,49

LEVEL 4
a Communicates observations with staff, educators, youth, and families in a clear and supportive manner, while maintaining confidentiality.49
b Selects and plans appropriate assessments relevant to positive youth outcomes.9
c Works cooperatively with assessment, school, and health care teams to provide appropriate programming for youth with special needs.49
d Provides referrals to organizations in the community as appropriate.9

LEVEL 5
a Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and/or applies current theories, research, policies, and practices relevant to assessment.49
b Communicates major research and issues relevant to observation and assessment with stakeholders.49 c Establishes criteria, procedures, and documentation methods for observation, assessment, and accommodation.49
d Provides training to staff on observation and assessment skills.21
CONTENT AREA IV
FAMILIES, SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES

CONTENT AREA INCLUDES:
- Relationships with Families
- Connection with Schools
- Use of Community Resources

DEFINITION/DESCRIPTION:
Afterschool professionals are a vital support to the youth and surrounding communities they serve. The professional should have the capacity to include family, school, and the community in each youth’s learning experience. Each professional should demonstrate the ability to communicate the goals of the program to stakeholders and provide guidance to parents and families to increase positive youth outcomes. By engaging schools and communities in program efforts, additional resources and support will become available, creating a vested interest in the success of the youth and the program.20, 32, 41

Relationships with Families

LEVEL 1
a. Respects the role of the family as central to the development of youth.5,34
b. Establishes positive communication and relationships with families.23,34
c. Demonstrates understanding of diverse family structures.34
d. Maintains confidentiality.8
e. Uses inclusive language that is respectful of all family types.6

LEVEL 2
a. Creates and maintains open, friendly, and cooperative relations with families and communicates with them on a regular basis.6
b. Encourages family members to participate in program activities.34
c. Supports cultural differences and diverse family structures.34
d. Demonstrates an understanding that families influence youths’ abilities and interests.34
e. Provides opportunities for families to share skills, talents, and cultural backgrounds.9
f. Supports the relationships of youth with their families.33, 34
g. Demonstrates an awareness of the stress factors that affect families.27
h. Communicates with families about program goals and activities.6

LEVEL 3
a. Communicates with families about the progress and development of their youth.27
b. Partners with families in addressing developmental and behavioral issues of youth.27
c. Ensures that family and community diversity and cultures are reflected in all aspects of the program.5

d. Works effectively with families from a variety of cultural, linguistic, and socioeconomic backgrounds.6
e. Provides families with appropriate referrals to community resources.6
f. Plans and conducts family meetings and conferences.6
g. Uses effective conflict resolution techniques with families.5
h. When appropriate, involves family members as decision makers in the program planning.6,41
i. Builds on families’ strengths and creates opportunities for continual family involvement.33
j. Utilizes available resources to encourage family involvement.30
k. Encourages family members to support youth in completing school assignments.36,41

LEVEL 4
a. Shares knowledge of child/youth growth and development with families.9
Connection with Schools

 Please note this section applies to School-Based and Community-Based Programs that are interested in greater alignment with the school day. The Afterschool Professional Development Work Group recognizes that not all afterschool programs have the philosophy, resources, or access to school records and personnel. Afterschool programs may elect to have formal Memorandums of Understanding (MOU) or informal relationships with schools that permit access to teacher input and data systems for afterschool program planning. All afterschool programs are advised to adhere to guidelines provided by their respective funders. As such, this section is an optional resource for select programs.

LEVEL 1

| a | Demonstrates recognition of the importance of connecting schools with the afterschool program to improve academic performance. |
| b | Supports in-school learning and development. |

LEVEL 2

| a | Relates school content to real life experiences. |
| b | Reinforces concepts taught in school through hands-on experiences. |

The NC Center for Afterschool Programs (NC CAP), in partnership with NCSU 4-H Youth Development and the NC AfterSchool Coalition (NC ASC), has been leading a statewide collaboration since September 2008 to create a professional development system that will motivate afterschool staff to increase their level of education, and in turn, the level of quality care they provide. Eighteen state and local organizations serve on the Afterschool Professional Development work group, including representation from the major public and private afterschool providers, state agencies, afterschool member associations, community college system, and the early childhood movement.

FOCUS GROUP PARTICIPANTS

Focus Groups were held October 2009 – March 2010. The purpose of these groups was to introduce the competencies to different afterschool stakeholders and gather initial public feedback. Participants were instructed to identify what they liked about the Core Competencies, what could be improved, and what barriers for implementation that they perceived. These focus groups provided formative information that was used to further develop the competencies and will continue to guide the development of resources and trainings to support the competencies.

CONSENSUS PANEL MEMBERS

On May 13, 2010, a consensus panel was held to discuss the Professional Core Competencies further, with a wide variety of afterschool stakeholders. Much like the focus groups, the consensus panel was used to further develop the competencies. The panel also discussed what supports would be needed to put the competencies into place and how the competencies will be used by individual programs.

EXTERNAL REVIEWERS

Professionals, external to the process of developing the competencies, were asked to review and provide feedback on a draft of the document. They were asked to review based on their expertise, professional opinion, and organizational knowledge to determine if the competencies were appropriate, feasible, and achievable. The feedback from this review was incorporated into the final document.
