

Afterschool and Summer Learning in North Carolina

21st Century Community Learning Centers in the 9th Congressional District of students served:

668

of 21st CCLC grantees:

6

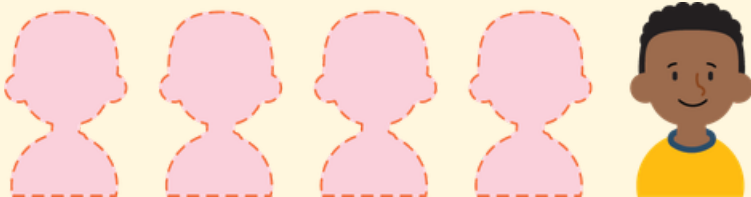

Amount of 21st CCLC dollars received:

$2,424,689

Data reflects the 2025–2026 school year

North Carolina demand for OST opportunities

In North Carolina, the demand for afterschool programs is incredibly high. Parents of over 850,000 children want afterschool programs, but nearly 4 in 5 children are missing out.

Families value and rely on OST programs

88%

of parents agree programs encourage fun and learning and decrease screen time

84%

of parents agree programs boost their kids' employability skills like teamwork, critical thinking, and leadership skills

92%

of parents agree programs help them keep their jobs or work more hours

9 out of 10 U.S. voters say afterschool strengthens families' economic well-being, helps parents work and allows parents to provide for their families.

